

“Today’s decision reinforces what most Floridians believe; the health care overhaul goes too far and is unconstitutional,” Bilirakis said. “Since day one, I have said that it is unconstitutional to force Americans to buy a product, and will continue to work toward replacing the burdensome and over-reaching law with solutions that provide access to affordable coverage.”